

FUND OF $2,500,000 FOR JEWS IN EUROPE

Amount Raised at Mass Meeting in New York Toward Relief Work.

GIFTS OF $100,000 EACH

NEW YORK, December 22.—Nearly $2,500,000 for the relief of Jewish war sufferers in Europe was pledged at a great mass meeting in Carnegie Hall last night. Jacob H. Schiff of this city and Julius S. Rosenwald of Chicago headed the list with $100,000 each. A total of $466,875 was subscribed by forty persons.

The meeting was the first step in a campaign undertaken by the American Jewish central committee and the people's relief committee to raise $10,000,000 for war relief measures in 1917. The subscriptions received came not only from New York but from all parts of the country.

Thousands Clamor for Admission. Thousands of Jews who had not been supplied with tickets surrounded the hall before the doors were opened. Rich and poor, old and young, struggled for admission. Prosperous business men rubbed shoulders with struggling immigrants, who had brought their families, to learn what they could do to aid the homeless and starving in war-torn Europe. Women and girls who had toiled all day in shops and stores went dinnierless that they might be on hand early.

The floor of the hall and the stage were filled early by representative Jews and their sympathizers in the fund campaign. Before the contributions were announced Dr. Judah L. Magnes, acting vice chairman of the American Jewish relief committee, related his experiences in the war zone of Europe, which he visited to learn conditions among the Jews. Then he asked if any of those present wished to increase the amount they had pledged.

Doubles His Previous Gift. There was silence for a few moments and then Jacob Wertheim stepped forward and informed Dr. Magnes that his 1917 contribution would be $20,000. Last year he gave $10,000. The doubling of Mr. Wertheim's previous gift was applauded.

"Louis Marshall, who gave $10,000 last year, will give $15,000 this year," Dr. Magnes announced. While Dr. Magnes announced Dr. L. Magnes, acting vice chairman of the American Jewish relief committee, related his experiences in the war zone of Europe, which he visited to learn conditions among the Jews. Then he asked if any of those present wished to increase the amount they had pledged.

The audience kept up the applause with each announcement, while in the aisles and in the balcony boxes fifty Jewish girls collected envelopes containing money and pledges.

"Nathan Straus has given $50,000," Dr. Magnes went on. Picking up another check he waved it and said: "Felix M. Warburg's contribution is $50,000." The audience applauded, expecting apparently to hear of still larger gifts.

Greeted by Deafening Applause. Deafening applause greeted the announcement that Mr. Schiff had given $100,000. The tumult lasted several minutes, and then the gift by Mr. Rosenwald of another $100,000 increased the enthusiasm. Mortimer L. Schiff coughed $25,000.

Jews of Chicago sent checks for $75,000 and pledged a total of $500,000 for 1917. From Boston $12,000 was received with a promise of more than $100,000. Detroit sent $14,500 and Pittsburgh pledged $100,000; Rochester, N. Y., pledged $55,000, and Portland, Ore., sent $1,000 with a pledge of $20,000.

Cash gifts and pledges from cities outside of New York city aggregated about $1,184,000. In addition to these sums other amounts were collected from among those at the meeting, the total of which had not been announced last night.

Addresses were made by Jacob H. Schiff, who presided; Nathan Straus, Mayor John Purroy Mitchell, Rabbi Leon Harris of St. Louis and United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri.

CAMPAIGN IN CONGRESS AFTER HOLIDAYS PLANNED

"Dry" Advocates to Push Fight for Constitutional Amendment for Prohibition.

The prohibitionists plan an active campaign in Congress immediately after the Christmas holidays to obtain action on the resolutions proposing a constitutional amendment for nationwide prohibition. The Sheppard resolution for this purpose was favorably reported to the Senate yesterday by the judiciary committee, and a similar resolution already had been reported to the House.

The resolution was today placed on the Senate's calendar. Senator Chilton presented the favorable report of the judiciary committee on the revised amendment. It requires a two-thirds majority of both houses to adopt such a resolution, and even the most ardent supporters of the proposed constitutional amendment do not expect a victory under these conditions. However, they do expect an increased majority in the House over that given when the last vote was taken on a similar measure, and ultimate victory in the next Congress.

In the House it is planned to bring in the resolution for the consideration of the resolution. In the Senate, however, the resolution must take its chances with other legislation. Senator Sheppard will seek action on the resolution at the earliest opportunity.

A bill to bar liquor advertising from the mails in prohibition states was favorably reported yesterday from the Senate post office committee. Representative Kitchen, majority leader of the House, expressed the opinion that the District prohibition bill, which is to be voted on in the Senate January 9, would pass the House the present session. He added, however, that he did not think that any national prohibition measure could obtain the necessary two-thirds vote in the House at this time.

SAMPLES TO BE TAXED.

Treasury Department Decides They Have a Commercial Value. Samples of merchandise have a commercial value. That was decided by Congress when it put in the tariff law of 1913 a provision for assessment of duty on all samples except "samples solely for use in taking orders for merchandise," or unless entitled to free entry as articles on the free list.

Now the tax is to be assessed. Under decision of the Treasury Department all imported samples, thirty days after today, are to be assessed on the entered or appraised value of the merchandise, but will be accepted for their exportation within six months.

Under the old practice twelve samples were considered of no commercial value when limited to nine inches in length, or when exceeding that size, punched, slashed, perforated or indelibly stamped across the face in such a manner as to destroy their value as merchandise.

FOR A MUNICIPAL ABATTOIR.

Representative Crosser's Measure New One for the House. A bill for a municipal abattoir has been introduced in the House by Representative Crosser, author of the bill, for the municipal ownership of street railways. The idea of a municipal slaughter house is a new one to Congress, which already has pending before it bills for the municipal ownership of bakeries and the government ownership of telephones within the District of Columbia.

The latest Crosser bill has been referred to the District committee. In a statement issued by Representative Crosser, he says: "My bill will strike a body blow at meat."

NEW SYSTEM AFFECTS DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH

Money of United States No Longer Congested in a Few Large Centers of Population.

While New York city maintains financial supremacy, with twenty-five of the first one hundred national banks of the nation in size, the operations of the federal reserve system have brought about a distribution of wealth that means that no longer is the money of the United States congested in a few large centers of population. The first one hundred largest banks are now scattered among thirty-three cities and twenty-three states, according to a statement by the controller of the currency, John Skelton Williams. Their resources have increased $350,000,000, or about 9 per cent.

Controller Williams indicates that with one exception the resources of the largest hundred institutions are in excess of $20,000,000 each, or more than $2,000,000,000 altogether. New York state leads the list with twenty-five out of the one hundred. Pennsylvania has sixteen, Missouri eight, California and Illinois seven each, Ohio, Minnesota and Massachusetts each has five, Colorado has three, Texas, Nebraska, Maryland, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin each has two and Oklahoma, Alabama, Louisiana, Virginia, Washington, New Jersey and Oregon one each.

Only Five Banks Show No Increase. "The healthy distribution of the wealth and banking resources of the United States," reads the statement, "which has been brought about under the federal reserve system is being manifested in many ways."

"Among the hundred largest banks there are only five which did not show an increase. Three of these banks showing reductions were located in New York and two in California. "The largest reduction shown by any one of the five was less than $2,500,000. The largest percentage of increase was shown by a bank in Texas, which increased more than 33 per cent or more than $6,000,000."

Outside the central reserve cities, special increases—more than $5,000,000 each—were noted in Dallas, New Orleans, Buffalo, Kansas City, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Boston in the order named.

BOPP TO RESUME STAND IN CONSPIRACY CHARGES

German Consul General at San Francisco to Undergo Direct and Cross-Examination Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 22.—Franz Bopp, German consul general in this city, was ready today to resume the stand for direct and cross-examination on the government's charges that he and six others conspired to destroy shipments of munitions to the enemy allies, in violation of the United States neutrality.

During a brief examination yesterday Bopp admitted payment of substantial sums to two of his fellow defendants, Louis J. Smith, the government's chief witness, and C. C. Crowley, both of whom had been employed by E. H. Von Schneck, vice consul, also under indictment, during Bopp's absence from the state, and retained in the consulate employ after Bopp's return.

Bopp contended, however, that their employment was entirely for legitimate investigations of alleged violation of American neutrality by agents of the enemy allies.

Bopp's admissions are said to have upset the government's plans to prove that Bopp paid Smith and Crowley, evidence having been introduced by the prosecution to show that Bopp was the only man empowered to handle consulate funds.

The prosecution, it is said, now will introduce further evidence in its efforts to show that these payments were reimbursements for fictitious destruction of munition cargoes and railroad property in Canada, which Smith and Crowley had reported to Von Schneck, according to Smith's testimony as actual occurrences.

Alonso Smith of Wheeling, W. Va., nephew of Louis J. Smith, collapsed in court yesterday after he had testified his uncle had told of expecting to receive $50,000 from the government in return for his testimony against Bopp. The youth was revived at a hospital.

Fight on Daniels Resumed. Opposition to confirmation of the renomination of Winthrop M. Daniels of New Jersey as a member of the interstate commerce commission was resumed in executive session of the Senate yesterday afternoon, and after repeated efforts to compel the attendance of a quorum the Senate adjourned in the midst of discussion of the appointment.
